

Welcome back everyone! Time off is nice but sometimes it is good to get back in our routine of things.

We have started 3 digit subtraction this week. The math series does a nice job starting small and building to more complicated pieces of 3 digit subtraction.

We started Module 8 in our reading series. This one is all about plants. We will try to schedule a walking field trip to the woods for this module.

Report cards are scheduled to be posted next week on Skyward for you to access. Please review these. One area we will be working on as a class that was a drop off for some of our students is doing our best work. We have a lot of little reading checks and follow up that I allow students to improve their score as much as they want. Some of our students do a great job taking advantage of this while others do not. So we will aim to improve that in the 4th quarter. The group as a whole was a little more chatty in the 3rd quarter. I strongly encourage you to review your student's report card and then reach out to me with any questions or concerns. I am more than happy to chat on the phone, Zoom, or meet in person (mornings and lunch are best).

My family is on Spring Break next week so I plan on taking a couple of days off to be with them FYI. Have a great weekend and cheer on the Boilermakers (I will be there tonight but way high up!)
